Many Beautiful Horses Here
This Week—Old Dominion Bred.

REVIEW OF THE EVENTS

Broad Rock Causes the Blue
Ribboners to Pass in Review.

Glance over the advance sheets of the catalogue of the Richmond Horse Show Association for its fourth annual exhibition, fixed for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and a matinee on Saturday afternoon, of this week, shows that a grand lot of horses are entered here. The fifty-two classes attracted a splendid list of over five hundred entries. This shows well for the popularity and enterprise of the Association. Seeing that Virginia has furnished many of the most noted hunters, jumpers and steeplechasers, brought out in America, it seems fitting that Richmond, the State capital, should be favored on this occasion with probably the most superb collection of horses ever paraded on the tanbark ring at any Southern show.

Among these horses a number are familiar to patrons of the Richmond show, while others will appear here for the first time. This, also, applies to the entries in the harness classes, but in the latter division there are some performers of wider notoriety even than have been seen at previous shows here.

For Tuesday evening, Class 4, horses in harness, will be first called. There are four entries, including David Dunlop's Joe, the chestnut mare, Mignonette from the stable of John Kerr Branch, and the elegant chestnut gelding, Carnation and Panselation, owned by Mrs. James M. B. Grosvenor. Class 5, saddle horses, follows. Among those to appear will be Blanchard Forber's handsome Kentucky-bred gelding El Capitán, Harry W. Sprattley's Sportsman, Dr. C. S. Carter's Rappahannock, and Mrs. Blair Johnston's Robin Adair, a winner of many blue ribbons in select company. Horses in harness, the Virginia class, will bring out Radius, O. H. Ford, Heltrope, Town Topics and others.

There are nine entries in Class 21, for ponies and they are a select lot. Then comes Class 18, four-in-hands. George Cole Scott, of this city, has his team in, as have Breese & West, of Baltimore, while Mrs. J. M. B. Grosvenor, of New York, has two teams entered, one of which will be driven by that finished reinsman, Jack Donnelly. Clarence West will tool the Baltimore turnout and a master hand at the game. In Class 1, roadsters, with eight entries, should attract attention. Edmund A. Saunders will show Rosalie S. and Fozie Lambert, 2:22 1/4, the bay mare by Alstadian, dam Antoinette, by Daniel Lambert, while S. J. Holloway, of the prize of his stable in Red Light, 2:21 1/4, the chestnut mare by Red Wilkes, Jr., dam, Moonlight, by Twilight.

Class 43, hunters and jumpers, with over thirty entries, will bring out a field of horses fit to be classed with the most select in the land. S. J. Holloway has four good ones in Mrs. A. E. Dietrich have the old Richmond favorite, Buck; Courtland H. Smith has seven including champion the Gormet Ribbed and, while S. J. Holloway, of the prize of his stable in Red Light, 2:21 1/4, the chestnut mare by Red Wilkes, Jr., dam, Moonlight, by Twilight.

Wednesday evening promises to furnish rare sport and will be led off by Class 7, horses in harness, pairs. There are four entries and the exhibitors are from Alex. Davidson, C. S. L. Breese & West, and Mrs. J. M. B. Grosvenor.

Classes 20 and 8 follow, and a showy lot will be seen. They are for horses in harness. The latter class includes the famous Roseberry, Sultan, Postscript, Chester and Cromwell, and the Virginia-bred mares, Brilliant and Lady Olga, owned, respectively, by L. S. Ricketts, and Mrs. Allen Potts. Brilliant is an exceptionally turned young mare and winner of many ribbons. Four-in-hands

MALARIA IN THE SYSTEM
Holly Springs, Miss., March 24, 1903
While building railroads in Tennessee some twelve years ago a number of hands contracted fever and various forms of blood and skin diseases. I carried S. S. S. in my commissary and gave it to my hands with most gratifying results. I can recommend S. S. S. as the finest preparation for Malaria, chills and fever, as well as all blood and skin diseases. W. I. MCGOWAN.

I suffered greatly from Malaria, which would break out on different parts of my body. I saw S. S. S. advertised and after using about three bottles I was cured, and for the last three years have had no trouble whatever. A. W. ZIEHR, 217 Read St., Evansville, Ind.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good that I have come to depend on it since using it as a family remedy. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first rate blood purifier, tonic and cure for Malaria. C. C. HEMINGWAY, Arkansas City, Ark.

Boils, abscesses, sores, dark or yellow blotches and debility are some of the symptoms of this miserable disease. S. S. S. counteracts and removes from the blood all impurities and poisons, and builds up the entire system. It is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. Write for medical advice or any special information about case.

AN INTERESTING SOCIAL EVENT.

MRS. OVERTON WOODWARD HICKS

Scott, Breese & West, and Mrs. Grosvenor. Then follows class 23, horses in harness, with six entries, after which we see three classes for hunters and jumpers, the last of which is for horses owned and hunted with the Deep Run hounds, and this will arouse local pride.

Saturday evening marks the close of the show and this will likely prove to many the most interesting performance of the week, as the championship classes are to be decided, while the high jump usually furnishes a sensational feature, as was the case last year when Richard Donnelly took Riffle over the bars at seven feet, two inches.

Class 9, pairs of horses, comes first; Cig horses, class 35, next; then ponies to harness, after which the four-in-hand class will be decided. The hunt class with hounds will then be called and this is a sight new to a Richmond audience, but an entertaining feature beyond the ordinary. Next is the champion class for saddle horses, then champion harness horses, after which comes championship classes for light weight hunters, with Free Lance and Buck entered. The championship for heavy weight hunters, with Jack Frost entered. The champion class for the finale, the high jump in which Free Lance, Grey Rock and Sue Bothwell are entered.

Class 22, ponies under saddle, has listed Aurora and five others. Class 15, unicorn teams, will bring out a couple of Mrs. Grosvenor's elegant teams and one each by George Cole Scott and Breese & West. The balance of the evening will be given over to classes 44 for thoroughbred hunters; 37 for qualified hunters; and 42, for the Corinthian class, open to all hunters. In these are entered the flower of this Southern country and a higher class of might be searched for in vain. To look upon, you have Garnett, Huckle, Lucy, Suburban, Deep Run and Le Touraine among the thoroughbreds, while the others include the splendid grays, Elevator and Gray Rock, Free Lance, Buck, Charly and others fully as worthy of mention.

For Friday evening we are promised a programme of more than ordinary attractiveness for this flower of Southern horse shows. Horses in harness, the Virginia class, leads off, then comes the Roadster class. The former has five entries and the latter seven. Class 5, double teams, will then be called. Mrs. Grosvenor has Carnation and Rose Leaf, and the famous pair, Carnation and Elevation. John Kerr Branch, the chestnut mares, Mignonette and Heltrope, and George Cole Scott brings up with his cross-matched team made up of the black gelding, Vivid, and the gray gelding, Venture. Saddle horses, class 32, will bring out a field of real class, because there are Mrs. Grosvenor's trio, Petroleum, Corrine and Dixie; Mrs. Potts's elegant mare, Brilliant; Mrs. Johnson's Robin Adair; while among others are Flareyette, Lady Olga, Flirt and Vindicator. Then comes ladies' pairs, tandems, and a couple of hunting and jumping classes. Among these latter are the best horses entered at the show, too.

For the matinee on Saturday afternoon one of the most interesting programmes of the week has been arranged. Class 11, horses and runners, comes first, with five entries, then ponies in harness, with a like number, after which class 24, ladies', turnout will be called. Class 12, combination harness and saddle horses, has nine entries. All are Virginia horses, among them being Brilliant and Lady Olga, who have been competitors along the line of Virginia open air shows this season.

Class 13, tandem teams, has three entries and they are made by George Cole
